1. Smack his butt – when he’s walking by, smack his butt and move on. Turn around to see his surprised face, and wink at him playfully.

2. Secret code phrase – Want to tell him you think he’s hot? Try a secret code phrase, like “Are we due for an oil change?” No one else will know what you really mean but him, so you can say it in front of the kids, in front of your parents, in front of anybody!

3. Hide and seek – buy a small gift or just write a little love note and hide it in your bra. When he comes home from work tell him that you have a surprise for him somewhere on your body. But be prepared to deliver later… 😊

4. A flirty note – write a flirty note (like “I’m available and I think you’re hot!” or “I could go for one of your kisses right now”) and have one of your kids give it to him while you’re spending time as a family together.

5. “Forget” your panties – go commando. Wear a short skirt and while doing house chores, bend over and see if he notices. Another great option is to ask him to pick your underwear in the morning. Take out your best bras and ask him which ones he would like you to wear for the day.

6. The unexpected compliment – compliment him on something unexpected and boost his ego for the rest of the day. Tell him how you feel when he holds your hands or kisses your cheek. (By the way, the more you compliment him on certain behaviors, the more he’ll repeat them.)

7. Text or email him a selfie in the middle of the day – strike a pose 😊, play with your hair, wink, anything that will catch his attention. If it’s something sexy, he won’t stop thinking about until he gets home.

8. Sexy picture – take a sexy (yet subtle) picture of yourself and send it to your husband. You can send it to him even if he’s sitting next to you and watching TV for an extra laugh. Warning: No naked or semi-naked pictures. That can go wrong in so many ways. 😊

9. Touch him – so obvious, yet so effective. Hop on his lap when you’re watching TV. Stroke his thighs under the table during dinner. Seize any opportunity to be physically close and affectionate.

10. Flirty text messages – this is definitely my favorite way to get the flirt on with my husband. Texting is an easy way to get his attention (and keep it!) throughout the day, no matter where he or you are doing. Here are a few flirty texts you can use, guaranteed to heat things up in seconds and making him think about you all day:

- Let’s have a naked dinner #nakeddinners
- No kids! No panties! No rules!
- If you were here right now… 😊

Alternatively, you can use texting in romantic or cute ways. Text him romantic song lyrics, a memory of fun times (last night?) or a great love quote/compliment. If you’re short on ideas, I have you covered. More ideas for love messages for him.

11. Note on the car mirror – sneak out and leave a flirty note on his car rearview mirror saying “I’m jealous of this mirror because it’s looking at you.”

12. Dance in the kitchen – play your favorite song and dance in the kitchen when he least expects it.

13. A pillow fight – a pillow fight is not reserved for children. And it’s a great way to make a move on your husband. Just toss him a few pillows and start swinging. A great fun-before-bed activity.

14. Water gun in the shower – while your hubby’s in the shower, sneak in quietly and squirt him with a water gun. He will probably pull you in there with him.

15. Car flirting – tease him a little when he’s driving (nothing dangerous though). Slide your hand on his thigh, take his hand and put it on your thigh, anything that the kids won’t notice will be fun.

16. Wear red – scientists have shown that guys are instinctively attracted to this color.

17. Peep show at morning rush – in the middle of the morning rush, flash him full on. This unexpected flirt will make him feel like the luckiest man on the planet and keep his mind on you all day.

18. Let him pick your clothes – before date night, step out of the shower in your towel and let him pick what you’ll wear – skirt, shoes, top, underwear, lipstick, perfume, everything. His choices will probably surprise you. A great reminder that you don’t really know everything about each other.

19. Sexy book club – pull out a copy of the Kama Sutra or another book about sex and intimacy and ask him if he is interested in joining your book club. Read some together.

20. Rub his legs under the table at dinner or in a restaurant – this cliché always works. That’s why you can still see it in any romantic movie. When you do it, he’ll immediately notice it and look into your eyes. Lower your head down and break into a flirty smile.

21. Close the door when you dress up for date night – make him notice that you are closing the bedroom door and insist that it stays closed while you get ready for date night. When you come out, you’ll look amazing. This little bit of mystery will remind both of you of the time you were dating (with butterflies in your stomach) and in love.
